

Pro Giving

An organization's social responsibility is becoming increasingly more important to business success. Not only does philanthropy positively impact employee retention, it can also improve a company's reputation.

UKG Pro™ Giving (formerly UltiPro® Giving) enables companies to offer employees more opportunities to make a difference in their communities, with charitable giving campaigns that make participation easy and convenient.

Simplified Giving

Pro Giving makes it simple for your people to make an impact. They can view available campaigns, select the one they want to support, and choose how much they want to donate and from which paycheck—either one-time or recurring donations. Employees can see the deduction in their paychecks and they also have access to a detailed summary of all giving campaigns to which they've donated.

Comprehensive Dashboard

Campaign managers can quickly access all campaign details through an intuitive dashboard.

- See a comprehensive overview of total amounts raised across all campaigns
- View individual campaign results
- Track participation levels, including who has contributed and how much
- Update employee-specific donations

Convenient Configuration

HR professionals can create new campaigns and configure the information within them, including details about the cause and why it's important. When people opt to donate, the deduction gets automatically processed in the selected payroll cycle—no additional steps required. From there, the organization can download a report containing all employee contributions and donate the funds accordingly.

